Graphing our words

by Karen Kennedy, Director of Publicity and Promotion

The young man was loved by the people of Me they joined him and followed wherever he'd be.

“Sir, please tell us about a lie.
Can it be told in truth? Is it ever all right?”

“Lying hurts you and it hurts others too.
Told to deceive, mislead, and believe.
Trust breaks down quickly between you and me,
and never rebuilds at the same rate of speed.

This I tell you, speak out of love. Speak out of truth.
Speak to another as you want them to you.”

Excerpts from “The Streets of Me” narrative by Laura Rath

Truth/lies—extreme opposites. If we wanted to graph these words, truth would be on one side while lies would be on the complete opposite side.

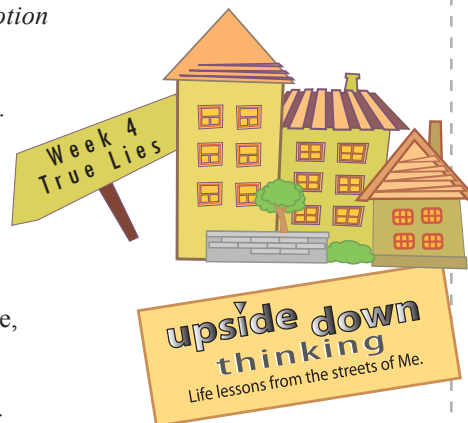

On the truth side, we see God, who guarantees all of his words (774,746 to be exact in the Bible) by sealing them with an oath. Throughout the Bible, we witness God being faithful to his Word. He encourages us to trust in him because his words are trustworthy. Take for example, when God spoke to Abraham about becoming the father of many nations. According to Hebrews 6:13, “since there was no one greater for [God] to swear by, he swore by himself.” Think about that for a moment. When God makes a promise, he guarantees it by himself. His words are trustworthy and are meant for healing, restoration and peace; therefore, it is easy to trust his words.

On the other end of the spectrum are lies. John 8:44 states that the devil is the “father of lies.” His fiery-dart words are directed to steal, kill and destroy everyone and everything in their path. His lying is consistent with his character, trying to usurp all that is good from God.

So, the stage is set. We see God on one end, the devil on the other and the gray area in between—which is where we enter the picture. When we speak, where do we fall? Closer to God or closer to God's arch enemy? Do we always tell the truth? Do we watch our words, so that we reflect God's nature? Or do we sometimes deceive others and ourselves by telling little white lies? Or do we speak the truth in love?

Today we will examine the weight and the value of the words that come forth out of our mouths, so that we can mirror the prayer in Psalm 19:14:

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

Online women's Bible study

Ever thought of participating in a Bible study in the comforts of your home?

An online Bible study, "What Happens When Women Say Yes to God" by Lysa TerKeurst will run from June 5-July 2. Laura Rath will lead the study by posting thoughts relevant to the book twice a week at www.laurarath.blogspot.com. Women are then invited to comment on the book and how God is working in their lives.

What are the advantages of an online Bible study?

Quite simply, the schedule is completely determined by each individual woman. Even though a loose reading schedule is suggested, it's up to you when you read or comment on the blog.

What is the book about?

"Total obedience to Christ can transform an ordinary life into a remarkable journey. This is the hope found in the liberating message of "What Happens When Women Say Yes to God." Lysa shares inspiring stories from her own life, along with compelling biblical insights, as she describes what it means to partner with God in all decisions and actions. This book reveals how honoring God produces a life of deep joy and great purpose. It is an invitation to seek God and boldly ask for and expect more from the Christian life." ~ Lysa TerKeurst's blog

How to get involved?

1. Sign up for the "What Happens When Women Say Yes to God" study by sending an email to: laurajrath@gmail.com with your name, e-mail address, and city and state (so we can see God at work by bringing women together). By signing up you will receive updates and information throughout the study.
2. Purchase the book locally or online. For a list of online vendors go to our Web site or Laura's blog.
3. Mark the reading schedule from the blog to your calendar.
4. Start reading and enjoy the study with an online community of women who have a desire to put God first in their lives.

Additional Information:

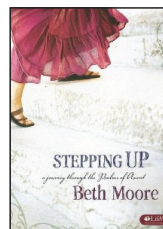

If you want more information about the book or the online study, please go to our Web site at www.gloriadeionline.com, or Laura's blog at www.laurarath.blogspot.com.

Summer Bible study at church

Women are invited to join a new Bible study Monday, June 6 through Monday, July 25 from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 6:30-8 p.m. in rooms 136-38. The study will be based upon Beth Moore's book, "Stepping Up, A Journey Through the Psalms of Ascent." Lisa Scherer will lead the group.

Overview of study: This in-depth women's Bible study explores Psalms 120-134. Just as a song or poem can express feelings of fear, doubt, hope, and joy, these 15 psalms model how we can voice our own petitions and praises to our God, who is always available and ready to hear us.

Books can be purchased the first night of the class for $17. If you need childcare, or have questions, please contact Lisa Scherer at 490-4108 or scherer_family@q.com.

Scripture on Giving:

Moreover, as you Philippians know, in the early days of your acquaintance with the gospel, when I set out from Macedonia, not one church shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving, except you only; for even when I was in Thessalonica, you sent me aid again and again when I was in need. Not that I am looking for a gift, but I am looking for what may be credited to your account. I have received full payment and even more; I am amply supplied, now that I have received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent. They are a fragrant offering, an acceptable sacrifice, pleasing to God. And my God will meet all your needs according to his glorious riches in Christ Jesus.

A note to our guests and visitors: The Lord's Supper is celebrated at Gloria Dei in the belief and with the confession that this Sacrament is the very body and blood of Christ (The Doctrine of the Real Presence) which is received with the bread and the wine for us to eat and drink for the forgiveness of sins and to strengthen our faith. Our Lord invites to his table those who trust his words, repent of all sin, and seek to forgive and love as He forgives and loves us. If you agree with our beliefs regarding the nature and meaning of this Sacrament and desire to commune with us, you are welcome! For the medical and/or physical needs of members or visitors, non-alcoholic wine will be in the inner circle of each communion tray and will be lighter in color than the regular wine. In addition, gluten-free wafers are available, please alert the elders before the service if possible.

Weekly Bible reading

Matthew 5:33-37 (NIV)

“Again, you have heard that it was said to the people long ago, ‘Do not break your oath, but keep the oaths you have made to the Lord.’ But I tell you, Do not swear at all: either by heaven, for it is God's throne; or by the earth, for it is his footstool; or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the Great King. And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make even one hair white or black. Simply let your ‘Yes’ be ‘Yes,’ and your ‘No,’ ‘No’; anything beyond this comes from the evil one.
